Gov. Bradley is opposed to Uncle Sam acquiring territory all over the world, and gives splendid reasons for his position. He says: For more than a third of a century of profound peace the people of the United States have proven incapable of settling the race question. It is no nearer solution now than at the outset. Notwithstanding this, an effort is now being made to acquire other possessions, and another has been attached, the result of which will be not only to bring under our jurisdiction and control Malays, ignorant Negroes, Chinese, Japanese, Pigmies and Lepers, thereby greatly increasing racial troubles and the difficulties attending their settlement, but the assumption of burdens and responsibilities, which will inevitably prove onerous, expensive and exceedingly dangerous. In view of the rash energies being expended in this behalf abroad, there is no time remaining for the settlement of vexed questions of government at home. Indeed, there seems much greater anxiety to court similar difficulties in foreign lands than to prevent them in our own.

The State of Washington, which had female suffrage as a territory, voted against continuing women as voters, last month. This is well. Whenever a woman puts on breeches she loses that respect and love which she enjoys while remaining in her place. Women voters, women lawyers, women doctors and greatest of all, women speakers, are always misfits, and, as we heard a fellow say, are either old maids or disappointed married women, generally speaking.

Congress convened Monday. The president's message related principally to increase of the standing army and the problems brought about by the recent war with Spain. He juggles with the additional territory problem, though maps out no fixed policy as to the government of the islands. It is a windy document and was doubtless only read by those having more spare time than anything else.

If anyone thinks the Courier Journal has lost its popularity, he will quickly change his opinion by taking a look at Sunday's edition. It had 15 columns of advertising matter from the leading and best firms in the south, besides more than the usual amount of choice news matter. Taken up one side and down the other, the old C-J. cannot be surpassed, if equaled.

Several colleges are arranging for an oratorical contest at Lexington. Many a good plow hand is spoiled by these contests. The strength wasted in making "sweeping gestures" would be much more appropriately utilized in pulling the plow over a field.

The editor acknowledges with thanks an invitation to be present at the reception and celebration comprising Kentucky's welcome to Kentucky's troops at Louisville. Many visitors will be in the city and a royal time will be had by those attending.

Reply to X. Y. Z.

Editor RECORD:
An unknown quantity, signing X. Y. Z. in your last issue, seeks to expose my scheme for destroying the English Sparrow, and deals with it as if it were a trivial affair. The destruction of that bird is more desired, by the farmers of the country, than anything else, and, to them, the question is more momentous than the annexation of the Philippines, the tariff issue or the question of a silver dollar being made a standard dollar, at the ratio of 16 to 1. The farmers will never vote for a man who seeks to destroy the effect of my invention. I believe "X. Y. Z." is allowed the title of "Captain," for services in the war between the North and the South. I believe that he is a lawyer, a politician and the embodiment of wit and sarcasm. I think that he is the man who said that he saw several hogs that would weigh 900 pounds and that the musquitos were so large, in a certain locality, that a great many of them would weigh a pound. These statements are true, but misleading. Of course several h-g. will weigh 900 pounds and a great many musquitos will weigh a pound. If I am correct as to the identity of X. Y. Z., I must confess that he is my friend and that I admire his manhood and his talent, but his article will defeat him for any office, to which he might aspire, as the farmers will not support him, on account of his views on the Sparrow question. They will only support a man who favors the extermination of that bird and one who is not disposed to deal with the subject as if it were a frivolous one.

Reside this my invention was a valuable one and, if his article causes another to patent it, he will be made defendant in a damage suit for $10,000, in which all the lawyers in town will represent the plaintiff. I give these hints in order that the author of that article may govern himself accordingly.

Died, at her home near here, on last Friday, Dec. 2nd, at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Martha Poor aged 73 years. She leaves three sons and two daughters and hundreds of friends who mourn her loss. The funeral took place at her residence Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Services by Rev. C. M. Humphries, burial at family grave yard.

Death, the destroyer of the human race, comes to all. His cold icy hand is felt in every clime under the sun. In cottage, and palace his dominion is over all. This time he lays his hand on the old, a woman who had passed her three score years and ten. Though she had been in ill health for several months, she was never heard to murmur or complain of her affliction. She was true to her God, herself and her friends. She had few equals and no superiors. As a man lives so shall he die. When her body has mouldered in the tomb "Aunt Martha" Poor's deeds of kindness will live in the hearts and minds of those who knew and loved her. It has been the writer's privilege and pleasure to have known her intimately all my life and a better woman I never knew. As a neighbor she was kind and obliging. As a friend none could be more true. As a mother she was kind and devoted. We tender our deepest sympathy to the bereaved children and relatives in this dark hour of their deep affliction and may we all strive to follow her example of justice and kindness and we will meet her in a world where sickness and death never come.

Constipation prevents the body from ridding itself of waste matter. De Witt's Little Early Risers will remove the trouble and cure Sick Headache, Biliousness, Inactive Liver and clear the complexion. Small, sugar coated, don't gripe or cause nausea. At Stormes' Drug Store. 1m

BRAKEMAN WAS SHOT.

So He escape the Vengeance of a Mob's Tramp Was Taken From Lexington to Henderson, Ky.

HENDERSON, Ky., Dec. 7.—Detective Jeff Harlan, of the L. & N. railroad, brought to this city Tuesday night from Earlinton Andy Quarterman, to escape the vengeance of a mob. Quarterman was put in jail for safe keeping. He was arrested on suspicion in connection with the shooting of Brakeman William Carr. Quarterman had boarded the freight in this city some time in the early morning, and was aiming to get through to Nashville. He was ordered off at several times by Carr. At Barnetley Carr again ordered him off. A little later Carr was shot and killed. Quarterman escaped, but was captured late Tuesday at Earlinton. In a little while mob spirit was wild, and Detective Harlan thought best to bring the prisoner here. Quarterman was well dressed, and said he was from Chicago, and a barber by trade.

Decision May Be Delayed.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 7.—There was a rumor around the state house Wednesday that the court of appeals may delay the decision upholding the Goebel election law and not decide it till the January term. Chief Justice Lewis, in particular, and the court in general, are angry because the decision leaked out. None of the court of appeals either confirm or deny the story of the postponement until January, but it is not generally credited, as the court will be reorganized at that time, Judge Hobson succeeding Judge Lewis.

Convict Parole Law to Be Re-Established.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 7.—The Kentucky prison commissioners have decided to re-establish convict parole law, passed in 1888, but suspended since 1891, by governors on the ground as unconstitutional. The first convict to be paroled under order of the commissioners Tuesday was John Dugan, who killed Judge Jno. Colson, brother of Col. Colson, of the 4th Kentucky and congressman from the eleventh district of Kentucky.

Mileage Not Allowed.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 7.—The court of appeals Tuesday decided that Charles Wilson, chief of police of Mt. Sterling, who was appointed by the governor as the state's agent to go to New York and bring back a prisoner under arrest there for a theft committed in Kentucky, is not entitled to mileage, because on some technicality the New York governor refused to honor the requisition.

Chair Contract Not Breached.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 7.—The state prison commission held its regular monthly meeting here Tuesday, but no action was taken as to the chair contract, but at a meeting to be held Wednesday it will be taken up with other proposed contracts, and disposed of.

Wants Damages for Alienated Affections.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 7.—Mattie E. Potts was the plaintiff in two suits filed here Tuesday. In one she asks for a divorce from Thomas B. Potts. In the other she asks for $5,000 damages from Eliza E. Wellman for the alleged alienation of her husband's affections.

Escaped With Slight Bruises.

ASHLAND, Ky., Dec. 7.—Thomas Crump, a wholesale grocer, while crossing the C. & O. railroad track in his carriage, was struck by an engine. The carriage was demolished, but Mr. Crump escaped with a few slight bruises.

Sent to the Grand Jury.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 7.—Martin Johnson, who, with Robert Rowland, confessed to the murder of Jupiter Lewis, Tuesday, waived examination in the police court and was sent before the grand jury for indictment.

Father at Night's End.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 7.—Capt. Henry J. O'Neill, an old resident of Louisville, is dead, aged 99 years. He was married two years ago and three months ago his wife gave birth to a baby boy which survives its father.

HIS RECOVERY DOUBTFUL.

The Condition of Puglist Tom Lansing, Injured in the Fight With Jack Root, at Chicago, is Serious.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 5.—The condition of Tom Lansing, the puglist, who was stricken with paralysis several days ago as a result of a blow from the glove of Jack Root in a fight at Chicago, was more serious Saturday than it has been at any time since his illness. It is feared softening of the brain has begun. He has been delirious now for 24 hours and has been removed to St. Mary and Elizabeth hospital for treatment. Dr. Turner Anderson, his physician, says it is doubtful if he will recover.

To Vote On Local Option.

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., Dec. 3.—On the 9th of this month this town will take a vote as to whether local option shall prevail any longer, or open saloons be conducted. The fight is waxing hot. All the churches are making an active campaign. The Paintsville high school is also expected to make an open fight, as open saloons, it is believed, would endanger the very existence of the school. Some of the most influential citizens of the town favor saloons, and the contest will be close. At present the town is probably "wet" by a small majority.

Samuel J. Pugh Elected.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 6.—Samuel J. Pugh, republican, has been declared elected to congress from the Ninth Kentucky district by the state election commissioners. Williams, democrat, was his opponent. Chairman Pryor wrote the opinion of the commissioners, which, in the Pugh-Williams contest, is to the effect that Williams has failed to make out a case. On the same kind of a ruling, Roreing is given the certificate over White in the Eleventh. Williams will carry his contest before congress. Pugh's plurality is ten.

Cattle From Madison.

RICHMOND, Ky., Dec. 3.—The finest lot of cattle shipped from Madison county this year made up a special train of 30 cars, which went east over the R. N. & E. There were 300 cattle in the lot, corn-fed and weighing 1,500 pounds each. They were bought at 45 cents of Col. T. D. Chensault, the cattle king of Madison, by a New York firm, which will ship them direct to England.

Midnight Fire at Mt. Sterling.

MT. STERLING, Ky., Dec. 3.—Fire broke out at 12:30 Saturday morning in the large stable and livery stable of Stephens & Foster, and before the engines could be got to work it was destroyed. Twenty-five valuable horses were destroyed—burned to death—and one employee was badly scorched. The fire is now under control.

Mad Horse Killed.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 6.—A horse belonging to Mr. George Ewing, at O'Reilly's Station, was bitten by a mad dog several weeks ago. Sunday it developed hydrophobia and ran from the stable foaming at the mouth and biting at everything. A posse finally ran the animal down and shot and killed it.

Charged With Grand Larceny.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Dec. 5.—Otway Dickerson was held over by the examining court upon a warrant charging him with grand larceny. Young Dickerson is a first cousin of Arch Tyler, the man alleged to have been robbed of something like $200.

Heavy Assignment at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 6.—Simonson, Whiteson & Co., doing business under the name of the New Mammoth, assigned late Monday afternoon to L. Comingore. Assets about $100,000, consisting of the stock on hand, store fixtures and accounts. The liabilities are $150,000. Mr. Whiteson is from New York and succeeded D. G. Kleinhans in the firm.

Would Not Remove N. W. man.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 5.—Collector of Internal Revenue Sapp has announced that he will not remove his chief deputy, Lewis Newman, so long as he is in office himself. Commissioner Scott could only make the removal by abolishing the office.

From Next Kentucky Dead.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 2.—News of the death of Col. A. S. Hunt, for 30 years night clerk at the Phoenix hotel in this city, was received here Thursday from Detroit, Minn. He probably knew more people than any other man in Kentucky, and was the original of "the colonel" in the play, "In Old Kentucky."
